MINOR MENTION.

See J. Reiter's new fall stock of cloths.
The skating rink opened up last night.
Senator Allison is to speak here Saturday evening.

The republicans held their judicial convention to-day.

Thomas Tostevin is surveying for a half mile race track at Carson.

The Bavarian band will be in attendance at the roller rink to-morrow night.

Our communication from Neola is omitted from this issue, on account of crowded space.

Dr. E. D. Cross has moved to the southeast corner of Fourth (Baneroff) and Worth streets.

An addition to the residence of Horace Everett, corner of Second avenue and Seventh street is being built.

The Lewis murder case, which called a number of Council Bluffs people to Winterset has been continued.

Harrison Brothers, butchers, on Broadway, between Eighth and Ninth streets, will to-day remove to Missouri Valley.

The Pacific house is the only hotel in the city which has shown enterprise enough to hoist its banner during convention week.

The Hebrew New Year begins to-morrow at six o'clock and ends Sunday at six. Religious services will be held in Royal Arcanum hall.

W. Elliott, an insurance man, is said to have skipped the city yesterday with his goods, leaving an unpaid board bill of $25 at the Revere house.

Mrs. W. A. Morse while at the residence of Mr. Keeline yesterday, by a misstep fell in the cellarway and was quite badly bruised, but fortunately no bones broken.

Sheriff Seaman, of Crawford county, brought here yesterday a man by the name of Henry Myers, to be kept in this county jail for safe keeping, on a charge of horse-stealing.

The case of Martin Lawler, charged with stealing a bull, has been continued until this afternoon, Col. Lindt, returns from his mission east in the interests of the Soldier's Home.

Leave to wed was yesterday given Brown S. Proctor, of Plum Hollow, and Molly J. Gray, of this city; Alf. G. Anderson, of Princeton, Ill., and Anna S. Drisly, of York, Neb.

A young man from the country complained yesterday morning that he had been held up and robbed of $10, near the corner of Pierce and Madison streets, but the police took very little stock in his story.

A man named J. Pierson was brought back here from Nebraska by Deputy U. S. Marshal McCreary, and lodged in jail. Pierson was indicted about a year ago for violating the revenue law, but skipped out and has just been caught. He will have to face the court this time.

The Ladies' Harmony Mission has leased for a term of three years a lot on the corner of Logan and Harmony streets, and has purchased a house of 1. Ross, which will be moved on to the lot, and converted into a church for the holding of services and social gatherings.

Alderman Keating yesterday received a telegram from Keokuk, announcing the death of P. E. Howe, brother of Mrs. Keating, and Mrs. Keating left for that place last evening. Mr. Howe was taken with lung trouble about the first of June last and has been rapidly sinking since until death came.

A. B. Keith, of Denison, was about the happiest of all the democratic delegates yesterday. He first brought out in his paper Mr. Lally's name for district attorney, and has worked hard for his nomination. That he should succeed in spite of so much opposition, naturally makes him step off as if there was a new feather in his cap.

An attempt was made the other night to burglarize A. T. Rice's residence, No. 128 Fourth street. A screen was cut, and entrance thus obtained, but the fellow by striking a match awakened some of the family, and hence he skipped out. He was heard to whistle as if to a comrade, by which it is judged there were at least two in the scheme.

The local dissensions in the democratic ranks were often apparent in the actions of Pottawattamie county's delegation in yesterday's convention. There was more trouble in that delegation than in all the rest of the convention, and most of the delays in the transactions of business, and most of the bitter words were caused by the ill feeling among the members of this delegation. The Pottawattamie county delegation needed badly some of the "fusion" which seemed to be in the convention in such lavish quantities.

Mrs. Rialton, wife of Supervisor Henry Rialton, died yesterday morning about 1 o'clock. The sad news does not come unexpected, as she had been suffering from consumption for a long time, and of late has been very low, and her life has been despaired of for days. She was aged 44 years, and leaves four daughters and two sons. The funeral services will be held at Neola at noon to-day. Mr. Rialton and the family thus deprived of wife and mother have the tenderest sympathy of a large circle of friends in this city and county.

SETTING 'EM UP.

The Bourbons Seek Fusion to Avoid Confusion

E. E. Aylesworth Nominated for District Judge and E. H. Jackson for Circuit Judge.

Lally-Gagging With the Greenbackers.

The democratic judicial convention met in the opera house yesterday forenoon. J. W. De Silva called the convention to order, and stated that the judicial district committee had decided to call upon Robert Percival, of this city, as temporary chairman; and George Wise, of Fremont county, as temporary secretary, and Thomas Rowan, as assistant.

These gentlemen taking their places, Mr. Percival made a brief speech, in which he pictured the democracy as in favor of reform, and republicanism as nourishing corruption. He declared there was a case which had been dragging along in the circuit court here for years and had been carried to the supreme court, the only question is which was, whether the judge or the clerk should have the money. The democracy were determined to weed out such matters.

G. A. Holmes then moved that a committee of five be appointed on credentials. J. J. Shea amended by having one from each county. The following committee was then named: G. A. Holmes of Pottawattamie, George S. Osborn of Fremont, T. J. Rapp of Crawford, P. M. Guthrie of Carroll, D. M. Wyland of Shelby, J. M. Love of Audubon, T. M. Ivory of Mills, C. M. Foley of Cass, I. R. Sarver of Green.

The following committee was then named on permanent organization: Mr. Stachurski of Mills, Mr. Mynster of Pottawattamie, and Mr. Harrod of Shelby county.

Colonel Tam moved to adjourn until 1 o'clock. This was opposed and dropped.

While waiting for reports of committees speech making was indulged in. Mr. Phelps, of Cass county, was called to the front. He advocated tariff for revenue only, and maintaining the wealth and resources of the great Yankee nation, declared that it needed no protection, but could compete with the world. The government was asked to give a bounty to day laborers and wage workers by following the novel policy of giving the employees millions of dollars, trusting to their own sweet will to distribute these millions among their employer. The manufacturers keep these millions and shut down their work and discharge their employees at will. Iowa shall give no uncertain sound of free trade. The speaker then raised the cry of "reform." There was a cheering in office and maladministration in place of trust. The republican candidate had named a leader who was holding Little Rock bonds and the author of the Mulligan letters. The speech called but feeble applause, and it was cut short by the readiness of the committee to report.

The committee on credentials reported all counties represented and no contests.

The list was:
Audubon—J. M. Love, Silas Benson, J. R. Dodge, R. F. McArthur, J. F. McArthur.
Cass—C. M. Felling, E. Willard, D. B. McArthur, S. W. Straight, R. G. Phelps, J. J. Dolan, Ed. Cato.
Carroll—M. W. Beach, B. J. Kneist, James Boyce, J. M. Dreis, Thos. Kohan, P. M. Guthrie, M. Miller, F. M. Powers.
Crawford—S. J. Dow, J. E. Barnett, P. E. C. Lally, A. B. Keith, Geo. Richardson, Thos. Ryan, Thos. Rapp.
Fremont—R. Yowell, Frank Johnson, Geo. Osborn, Chas. Harris, E. Wimple, Geo. Wise, T. C. Wood.
Green—J. M. Arnett, Terrance Reynolds, John McCarthy, A. Busby, Thos. Carnody, J. H. Seever, J. Gots.
Mills—E. Starbuck, T. W. Ivory, A. J. Boston, Robert Lawson, Alex. Tipton, W. P. Campbell, F. W. Miller.
Pottawattamie—Robert Percival, W. A. Mynster, W. F. Patton, W. H. Ware, Geo. A. Holmes, J. N. Cassidy of Council Bluffs; J. P. Organ, and J. J. Shea, of Neola; W. B. Cuddy and J. S. Tamm, of Axtell; Jas. Crow, Mundong, R. W. Briggs, Carson, R. Kirkwood, of Crescent.
Shelby—J. W. Horrod, J. W. De Silva, O. Solomon, D. M. Wyland, J. H. Kuhl, E. B. Moore, L. L. Ridenour.

Mr. Mynster, of the committee on permanent organization, reported in favor of Mike Miller, of Carroll, as permanent chairman, F. W. Miller, of Mills, as permanent secretary, and J. H. Kuhl, of Shelby, as assistant secretary.

Mr. Miller, on taking the chair, spoke briefly, predicting that the republicans would step down and out, and advising the convention to get down to business.

Mr. Mynster arose, while John Jay Francy yelled for him to take the platform. In a little speech he nominated E. E. Aylesworth for district judge, George Wise, of Fremont county, seconded the nomination. Mr. Wyland, of Shelby, gave the nomination another second, and moved that Judge Aylesworth's nomination be made unanimous and by acclamation. Carried. No applause.

For circuit judge, Mr. Wise, of Fremont county, named J. M. Hammond.

Mr. Cuddy moved to proceed to an informal ballot.

Mr. Phelps protested. He thought chance should be given for all names to be presented.

The resolution was withdrawn.

Mr. Phelps, of Cass county, paid tribute to L. L. Delano, stating quite lengthily reasons why he should be nominated. Mr. Sarver seconded the nomination of Major Jackson in the interest of harmony and fusion. He claimed that Jackson had once withdrawn from the greenback ticket in favor of a democrat, and now he should be given a chance. He believed in fusion and did not wonder that republicans dreaded it. The only time he ever got whipped in his life was by fusion. He tried to stop an Irishman from punching his wife, but Bridget and her husband "fused," and he did not get off his bed for three weeks. He realized the strength of fusion then.

interest of fusion, seconded the nomination of Major Jackson.

Mr. De Silva, of Shelby, said he had had no opportunity to consult the delegation as to what they wanted to do, but he was satisfied they wanted to do about what was right. Like Mr. Beach, of Carroll, he was not a greenbacker and never had been, but he thought the greenbackers were pretty good fellows.

What the democrats needed was to get on top and then one after another could take their turns in getting office. All couldn't have this office at once. It was said that the greenbackers had 2,000 votes in this district, and if so they were entitled to a place on the ticket. He would like to see all those named succeed, but for the interests of fusion and to win democratic success, he favored the nomination of M. Jackson, although he did not know the man, but believed that Mr. Beach, who had recommended him told the truth about him.

Joseph Dries, of Carroll, insisted that the convention should act so to win success. It was necessary to fuse or else the republicans would win.

Mr. Wise then withdrew the name of J. M. Hammond, in the interest of harmony and fusion.

Mr. Cuddy moved that Major Jackson be nominated by acclamation.

A protest and ruled out.

Mr. Phelps then withdrew the name of Mr. Delano and renewed the motion, which was carried nominating Major Jackson by acclamation, and unanimously. First round of applause.

For district attorney G. W. Cullison was named. A. B. Keith, of Crawford county, in a glowing bit of eloquence, named P. E. C. Lally.

Mr. Dries, of Carroll county, seconded the nomination of Mr. Lally. Green county also seconded it.

W. H. Ware, of this city, made an anti-prohibition speech and wound up by seconding the nomination of George W. Cullison.

Mr. Patten, of this city, seconded the nomination of Mr. Lally, and gave Mr. Ware a little side tap.

Mr. Shea, of Neola, in turn touched up Patten for personalities and favored Cullison's nomination.

It was then decided to take an informal ballot.

G. A. Holmes and Mr. Dries were named as tellers.

The roll of counties was called, the vote standing:

Audubon	1	1	1
Cass	1	1	1
Carroll	1	1	1
Crawford	1	1	1
Fremont	1	1	1
Green	1	1	1
Mills	1	1	1
Pottawattamie	1	1	1
Shelby	1	1	1
Total	29	19	17

An attempt was then made to adjourn till 2 o'clock, but failed.

A formal ballot was taken resulting, Lally 29, Cullison 19, Hammond 19.

A second formal ballot was taken resulting, Lally 28, Hammond 19, Cullison 19.

There was then a consulting of the clans, and a third formal ballot taken.

This ballot brought out the name of P. P. Kelley, of Glenwood.

The ballot stood: Lally 28, Cullison 14, Kelley 12, Hammond 2.

A motion to take a recess of ten minutes was lost.

The fourth ballot was then taken, and there was a break for Lally and gave him the nomination as district attorney, the vote standing: Lally, 41, Kelley, 14, Cullison, 9, Hammond, 2.

Mr. Lally took little time in thanking the convention.

The following judicial committee was then chosen:

Audubon—J. M. Love.
Carroll—J. M. Dries.
Cass—S. W. W. Straight.
Crawford—S. J. Comfort.
Fremont—J. M. Hammond.
Green—J. M. Arnett.
Mills—Alex. Tipton.
Pottawattamie—R. W. Briggs.
Shelby—J. W. De Silva.

The convention then adjourned.

ANTI-PROHIBITIONISTS.

They Gather Here From all Parts of Iowa to Organize.

Yesterday there was a great gathering of anti-prohibitionists from all parts of the state, the gathering being made up almost wholly of those directly concerned in the manufacture and sale of liquors.

The number reached over a hundred, and the meeting was held in Dohany's old hall.

The sessions were strictly secret, and no outsiders were permitted to become insiders. The purpose of the gathering was to form a state organization, not only to prevent the enforcement of the prohibitory law, but also to set forces at work to secure in time the repeal of the law. A short time before the passage of the law there was a state organization to oppose it, but that organization has become disorganized. Since the passage of the law there have been local organizations but no state organization.

The matter has been pretty thoroughly canvassed quietly by representative liquor men traveling about the state and corresponding, and as a result the delegates from different parts of the state came here yesterday. Most of the session was devoted to the discussing of ways and means, and a committee was appointed to draw up a constitution and by laws, under which the officers could be elected, and the organization completed.

A recess was then taken, after which the convention re-assembled to elect officers.

Capt. Russell was elected president, George Smith Secretary, Wm. Lacy corresponding secretary, and Conrad Geiss treasurer. It was decided to next meet at Marshalltown on the second Wednesday in January.
